STRAITS CORONATION CON-TINGENT.

The following extract is taken from the letter of the Straits Times correspon-

TUESDAY, 13th May. About 1.30 p.m. yesterday we passed the great barren rocks of Aden. We did not call there, but the ship's officers signalled to the port as we passed. Pelim was passed shortly after late tea and we have also meta good number of steamers. The supply of ice on board has run out and the speed of the ship has been increased so that we expected to reach Suez soon. Some of the sporting members of the contingent have organised a club on board. It is called the 'Ceylon' Turf Club. The 'crest' is a donkey. The races are to be held at Port Said where it is understood the 'griffins' are in training. Nearly everly enegon the Cepton has become a momber of the Club. There is to be a grand fancy dress hall soon and it promises to be a good one.

WEDNESDAY, 14th May, Last night there was a grand trial by jury on the deck. Pte. R. S. Corbett, S.V.R., Secretary of the 'Ceylon' Turf Club, was charged with misappropriating 6d, the property of the Club. A Chief Justice was appointed and a jury was empanelled. The case was the result of a breey meeting of the aformentioned Club. The 'prisoner' was first put in the guardroom, but was bailed out for a fabulous sum by Sergeant, the Hon'ble Lim Boom Keng, S.V.I., who afterwards very ably defended him at the trial. Lance-Corpi. S. Hankin, S.V.R., as the Public Prosecotor, was very good, and there was quite a legal look about the whole thing. The usher was Pte. Wells, P.V. He was . armed with an Indian club and endeavoured to keep order in Court. It was quite impossible for 'our own reporter' to obtain on accurate report of the trial as everybody talked at once, and laughed when they could no more. Various amusing witnesses were called on both side and eventually the 'prisoner' was sentenced to five bottles of beer.' A villain named 'Tom,' who is frequently heard shouting 'Not a Move,' was arrested in place of the discharged prisoner. An attempt was made to turn a contemporary reporter out of Court, but he appealed to His Lordship (Pte. Sumer, S.V.R.) and threatened to appeal to the Institute of Journalists. He was permitted to remain in Court.

The Auk's Egg.

Two months ago an egg of the great auk (Alea impennis) was put up to auction at Mr Stevens's Great Rooms, King Street. Covent Garden, and knocked down at 240 On View from Wednesday, the 18th guineas. On the 15th ult., a much better specimen was offered for sale at the same place, and brought 51 guineas more-290 guineas - that is within 10 guineas of the record price. It was an exceedingly good specimen, larger than the average, for it measured fully five inches, against the usual four and a-half. The colouration was good, dark markings, being thickly grouped round the larger end and well

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

For numberless decades, THE PASSING the Chinese character or or THE hieroglyphic has had the

CHARACTER, supreme place in China. To know these grotesque forms and to be able to use them was considered the acme, and, indeed, the only education and true learning. No matter what culture a man might claim in science, mathematics, or philosophy, if he did not know the characters of the sages' he was not considered—an educated man from the Chinese point of 30.00 view, and, of course, there was no other z-consequently, such a man, no matter how brilliant his attainments from the western point of view, was still to the 12, Queen's Road. | Chinese a man whose 'education had been sadly neglected,' One readily coneedes the wonderful ingenuity and great ability which must have been required to build up the Chinese written linguage. It is really a marvellous system, but, after a fair trial of 3000 years, it must be adoutted that apart from the great literary classes who have made it their one life study it has never been understanded of the common people, and at this time of day it is not unfair to say it never will. Strange as it may sound, it is none the less true that there are still missionaries, although an everdecreasing number, who hold the crroneous idea that this is the best way to teach the people to rend, and to attempt any easier method which neglects the character is something approaching sacrilege. When it comes to pass that the sacred ark of Chinese hierogly phies requires the hands of Christian missionaries to support it, then something is radically wrong either with the system or the solf-constituted exponents and defenders. When we turn to the literary classes of China, we see that they are realising more and more every day that Chinese as an exclusive study is a thing of the past. To say that the study of English is fast becoming a dangerous rival of Chinese is a fact which the whole Empire. can be easily and conclusively proved by statistics. The attempt of the reactionaries in Peking to break up the Imperial University in that city is but an incident in the onward march of the English language and liberal education. Not including the Tung Man Kwan, in I body and discussed earnestly the labor sit the official and semi-official colleges of Canton there are probably a thousand students studying English in that city, There is only one government school in Canton where the old regime of essay

-A London telegram dated 22nd May says :-- The Army Committee, presided over by Mr A. Akers-Douglas, First Commissioner for Works, has presented report on the education of officers. The report condemns the entire system of army education as at present practised. It recommonds that the system at Sandhurst for the education of officers should remodelled. It is proposed that the cour of instruction should extend over, years, that the cost should be £112 instead of £150 as at present, and that there should be only one examination for candidates for Woolwich, Sandhurst, or the militia. The report further recommends that 50 conmissions should be set spart yearly for students from the colonies, and 100 for university candidates. At present the course of study at Sandhurst Royal Military College is one year. Candidates are examined for admission, there being three trials for ordinary candidates and two for university candidates. Subject to passing satisfactory examinations at the conclusion of the year of instruction students are given commissions as second lientenants in the cavalry or infantry. Students of the Royal Military Academy, Wordwich, are that is where it is most likely to be needed. destined as officers for the Royal Artillary or the Royal Engineers.

Letton, manage of Messra Kelly and Walsh's office in Duddell Street, said that on three occasions since the 6th blt., the shop had been entered and a large quantity of printing inl removed. The tins produced in Court were missed on the third occasion. For the defence, a Chinese compositor in the employ of the defendant said that three of the tine produced were hought by him last year from an European in Messra Kelly and Walsh's place, the price being $1.80 : tin. The other two tins were purchased from a marine hawker, the large one cost ing 40 cents and the smaller one 15 cents After being addressed by both solicitors, his Worship (Mr Hazeland) said the onus lay on the defendant to prove how he caminto possession of the goods, and that had not been done to his satisfaction. A finof $100, with the alternative of two months' imprisonment was, therefore, in flicted. Chan Pik Chuen, master of a printing shop at No. 68, Wellington Street, was then charged with the unlawful possession of a tin of violet ink valued at especially in cricket, boxing, shooting and 84. IN CRIMINAL/SESSIONS. (Before His Honour W. Meigh Goodman, Chief Justice). Wednesday, 18th Jane, 1902.

THE CALENDAR.

There were only four cases to be disposed of at the Criminal Sessions, which met to-day, namely, two cases of being in possession of forged bank notes, one case of manslaughter and one case of rebbery with violence.

THE WEST FOINT MANSLAUGHTER CASE. Li Choi, a youth of 17 years, was charge ed with the manslaughter of a coolie named, Chau Shan.

He pleaded guilty, and the Acting Attorney General, Hon A. G. Wise, detailed the facts of the case as recently published in the China Moil.

His Lordship, addressing prisoner, said -You are only 17 years old, and I suppose the other man was a stronger and bigger man than you. He provoked you by suggesting having a fight. He seems to have poked you in the stomach. You took out of your pocket a small pocket knife as stabbed at him, I think intending to inflict a cut on his shoulder. The knife happened to go hato the neck and severed the jugular vein. That caused the man' death, but I don't think you ever intended to kill him at all. But I must punish severely the use of a limite, even if it is only a small one. I think the justice of the case will be met by centencing you to relax the somewhat stringent regulations, imprisonment with hard labour for five

Chan Fronk, who sells food to the Chinese erew of the steriour Kommum, was charged with being in possession of 22 forged tendollar bank notes and 5 live-dollar Banking Corporation. He denied the charge, and the following jury was empanelled, viz.-J. Gregory, J. M. de Graet, J. M. de Rocha, C. E P. Herbst, A. Gascoigne, H. W. Fortesquieu and G. W. Gegg.

After the Acting Attorney General Ind reidressed the jury, evidence was led, Police Sergeant Terrett said that, on 23rd May last, about eleven o'clock in the morning, he received certain information, and, in consequence of it, arrested the defendent in Graham Street. He searched him and found inside his right sleeve the bundle produced. This bundle contained four packages, the first contained 10 forged ten-dollar notes of the Hongkong and Shaughai Bauk. Witness afterwards took prisoner to the Central Police Station. where he examined the other three packages. The second package opened contained a five-dollar notes, the third 6 ten-dollar notes and the fourth 6 tendollar notes. These notes were all found to be forgeries. In the first package, nine forged note was old. There was also in this package a small slip of paper with the Chinese characters for 'ching han' C make old) on it. R. C. Edwards, assistant in the Hong-Shanghai Bank, said all the notes were forgeries. The paper was too thick, and the signatures of the bank officials were incorrect. There were also other marks by which he was able to tell that they were forgeries.

The prisoner said that a man named Cheung King Tsau told him to bring the bank notes in question from Canton and gave him 70 cents for doing it. He did not level. All these unsightly musances were know whether they were good or bud. NOTES FROM PEKING.

(From One Own Correspondent.)

A year ago, the impending change from Occidental rule in the government of the city of Peking, and the adjacent territory also, was looked forward to with considerable dread by those familiar with Chinese ways. It was not uninturally supposed that when the Chinese found themselves once more in the saddle, they would begin to undo the work of the military, would and would take delight in showing that Chius is now for the Chiuese. Very little of these predictions can be said to have fulfilled. The holes in the city walls -- except those in the south-notes, all of the Hongkong and Shanghai lern city for railways--were promptly closed up. But, in general, it might be be said that the change from one domination to the other was accomplished without difficulty and without friction. This is to be set down largely to the account or the remarkable talent of the Chinese for being governed.

All this was many moons ago, but th present ways are a sort of compound of the older and the newer. Most of the main streets seem to leave been repaired after a fastrion, and it is a dismal fact that West Legation Street, especially that portion of it which is in front of the U.S. and Russian Legations, is the worst road in the Capital, full of depressions made by the heavy military carts, and apparently never tilled up. that travel is greatly obstructed, just as of old. Some of it appears to be carted offsomewhere-perhaps for a fertilizer (in which capacity it would seem to have a high value) -but more seems to be ultimately spread over the surface of the street as in the good old days of old, and when it dries its substance is impartially diffused all over the surface of the city, as of yore.

Excuvations show that the superficial strain of the present capital is composed to a large extent of the scal-ash which is an nually deposited in immense quantities, and which in five hundred years might easily raise the level of the ground severa feet. The whole region about Peking is more or less sandy, owing, in part, to the proximity of the irrepressible Hun (Yung) Ting) River, the inusciations of which no mortal has yet been able to control. Ashes ! and fine sand make an ideal substance to be dispersed by the high winds which alwinter and the spring. On this account alone, this city is generally held to be one of the most disagreeable places to inhabit anywhere to be found on the clobe. pristine filthiness is perhaps a trifle relieved owing to the changes made during th foreign regime, yet only a little, and one is not infrequently reminded of the just judgment of the late Sir Harry Parkes, who, one of his later letters, referred to Peking

MEDICAL TESTIMONIALS:-

Dr B. O'BRIEN, M.D., Civil Surgeon, Farzabad, says :- Mr N. Lazarus, optician, examined my vision to day, and I have much pleasure in testifying to the acceracy. with which he determined the proper glasses for me to wear. His method ofexamination is a very ingenious and accurate one, and by it he should be able to ascertain the proper glasses for the correction of all the errors of refraction met with in the ove.

Surgeon-Major G. C. HALL, in charge of the Eye Hospital, Allahabad, says :-- I have tested your Patent Refraction Test, and find it remarkably good and accurate. and I think it should prove very useful to all who are called upon to treat errors ofrefraction, specially Astigmatism, which is so common and yet so frequently over-

Dr Beaumont, F.R.C.S., M.D., Residency Surgeon. Hyderabad, says :-- Mr. Lazarus has shown one his method of testing the eyes of persons whose vision is defective, and I consider that any one requiring Spectacles may depend on poing carefully fitted by him.

> THE NEW FRENCH REMEDY employed in the Continental Hospitals by Bicord, Rosian, Johert, Velpeau, and others, combines all the desiderate to be sought in a medicine of the hind and surpasses everything hitherto employed. THERAPION No. in a remarkably short time, often a few days only removes all discharges from the urinary organs, superseding injections, the use of which does have parable harmby laying the foundation of stricture and other serious diseases. .

THERAPION No. 2 for impurity of the blood, scurvy, piuples, sputs, blotches, palme and swelling of the joints, account day symptoms, and all diseases for which it has been too much a fashion to employ mercury, sarshparilla, &c., to the destruction of sufferors' teeth and ruinof health. This preparation purifies the whole system through the blood, and thoroughly eliminates every poleonous matter from the body, THERAPION No. 3 for nervous exhaustion, waste of vitality, harasing dreams, and all the distressing consequences of early error, excess, residence in hot, unhealthy climates, &c. It possesses surprising power in restoring strength and rigour to the debilitated.

THERAPION is sold by all Chemistra and Merchante throughout the World.
